COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Diabetes Educator Course has been in existence for almost 20 years. This four day course in diabetes education is ideal for health professionals who desire to enter the dynamic and rewarding field of diabetes education or for those who wish to update their skills and knowledge in this area. In a collaborative group setting, through lectures, large and small group discussions and case studies, participants will hear from various professionals who will highlight the critical knowledge, skills and strategies needed to increase their understanding of diabetes management and education. Opportunity will also be given to learn about the latest innovations in diabetes treatment from leading medical technology and pharmaceutical companies in the field of diabetes care during our interactive exhibitors luncheon. Participants will come away with a solid foundation in diabetes education and management and will be well equipped to share this knowledge with others.
